

Textiles,Crafts and Customs of Burmas Woman World: Reprint of 1922 German Language Edition Translated into English

This book documents the travels of a German couple researching Burma's tribal women in 1910-1911. Published in 1922 as a complement to scientific articles with the purpose of making available unique photographic material it has long remained obscure. Because of the early period during which the photographs were taken they offer a view of the authentic styles of dressing and textiles not yet influenced by large-scale modernization.
